

Letting Go Fifth Edition A Parents Guide to Understanding the College Years

By Karen Levin Coburn

Harper Perennial. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 464 pages. Dimensions: 7.9in. x 5.2in. x 1.3in. For more than a decade Letting Go has provided hundreds of thousands of parents with valuable insights, information, comfort, and guidance throughout the emotional and social changes of their children's college years from the senior year in high school through college graduation. Based on real-life experience and recommended by colleges and universities around the country, this indispensable book has been updated and revised, offering even more compassionate, practical, and up-to-the-minute information. When should parents encourage independence? When should they intervene? What issues of identity and intimacy await students? What are normal feelings of disorientation and loneliness for students and for parents? What is different about today's college environment? What new concerns about safety, health and wellness, and stress will affect incoming classes? This item ships from multiple locations. Your book may arrive from Roseburg, OR, or La Vergne, TN. Reviews

This book is definitely not straightforward to get started on studying but extremely exciting to read. It is really simplistic but shocks in the 50 percent of the ebook. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

This publication is amazing. It is definitely basic but shocks in the fifty percent of your publication. You won't feel monotony at anytime of your own time (that's what catalogues are for concerning if you question me).
